

Individual Contributor License Agreement

To clarify the intellectual property license granted with Contributions from any person or entity, Upbound, inc ("Upbound") must have a Contributor License Agreement on file that has been signed by each Contributor, indicating agreement to the license terms below. This license is for your protection as a Contributor as well as the protection of Upbound and its users; it does not change your rights to use your own Contributions for any other purpose.

You accept and agree to the following terms and conditions for Your present and future Contributions submitted to Upbound. Except for the license granted herein to Upbound and recipients of software distributed by Upbound, You reserve all right, title, and interest in and to Your Contributions.

1. Definitions.

"You" (or "Your") means the copyright owner that is making this Agreement with Upbound.

"Contribution" means the code, documentation or any original work of authorship, including any modifications or additions to an existing work, that is intentionally submitted by You to Upbound for inclusion in, or documentation of, any of the projects owned or managed by Upbound or any third party that is managing a project to whom Upbound directly contributes (the "Work"). For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to Upbound or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, Upbound for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by You as "Not a Contribution."

2. Grant of Copyright License. You hereby grant to Upbound a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare derivative and collective works of, publicly display, publicly perform, transmit, distribute, sublicense and otherwise practice Your Contributions and such derivative or collective works. If Your license grant is ineffective for any reason, You irrevocably waive and covenant to not assert any copyright and related moral rights You may have against Upbound, its successors in interest, and any Upbound direct or indirect licensees, pertaining to the reproduction, preparation of derivative or collective works, public display, public performance, transmission, distribution, sublicense or other practice of a Contribution.
3. Grant of Patent License. You hereby grant to Upbound and to recipients of software distributed by Upbound a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise practice the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by You that are necessarily infringed by Your Contribution(s) alone or by combination of Your Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If any entity institutes patent litigation against You or any other entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that Your Contribution, or the Work to which you have contributed, constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to that entity under this Agreement for that Contribution or Work hereby terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. You represent that You are legally entitled to grant the above licenses. If Your employer(s) owns the copyright in Your Contributions, you represent that you have received permission to make such Contributions on behalf of that employer, or that Your employer has waived such copyrights for Your Contributions to Upbound, or that Your employer has executed a separate Corporate Contribution License Agreement with Upbound.
5. You represent that each of Your Contributions is Your original creation (see section 7 for submissions on behalf of others).
6. You are not expected to provide support for Your Contributions, except to the extent You desire to provide support. You may provide support for free, for a fee, or not at all. Except as provided otherwise in any section of this Agreement, or as required by applicable law or otherwise agreed to in writing, You provide Your Contributions on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.
7. If You wish to submit any work that is not Your original creation, You may submit it to Upbound by identifying it and the complete details of its source and of any license or other restriction (including, but not limited to, related patents, trademarks, and license agreements) of which you are personally aware, and conspicuously identifying the work as such. You represent and warrant that You have sufficient rights to contribute such work as a Contribution under this Agreement.
8. You will accurately submit any Developer's Certificate of Origin document then required by Upbound with the submission of each Contribution.
9. You will notify Upbound of any facts or circumstances of which You become aware that would make these representations inaccurate in any respect.
10. No compensation will be paid by Upbound in exchange for Your Contribution. Upbound is under no obligation to post, use or distribute any Contribution, and may remove any Contribution from any of its repositories at any time at Upbound's sole discretion.
